

— Saying that means in every little place

— Relationship between two numbers of amounts as expressed in a quotient (like a fraction)

— A method of keeping an injured limb immobile

— Short for cherubim, an order of angel, symbolized by the figure of a child with wings

— To recover from an injury, illness, or loss

— Empty, left behind

— Break in a bone

— Temporary structure that holds up workmen during times of construction or building repair.

— To covert or draw off water into vapor

— A space enclosed by walls inside or near a building

—

—

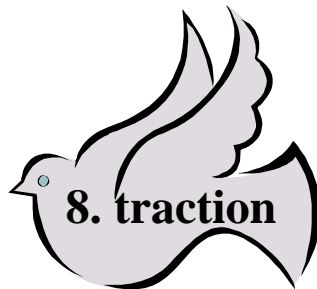

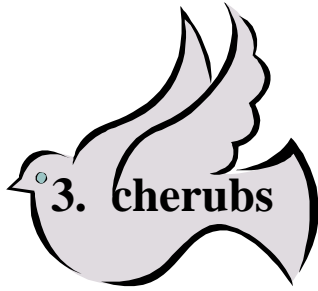

—

cabulary

CODE
8497

Total Points 60

An open public square in towns and cities of Italy

Triangular portion, just below the peak of the rook of a building

Make unable to move

To work hard

Hard type of plaster used to cover walls

Add in or fill up with water

A preacher of the Gospel

Extremely difficult and tiring work

Workman's tool, can be used for applying stucco to walls

A bottle for serving water of beverage at the table

—

—

—