

What country is known as the Land Down Under?

Australia

Why is Australia called the Land Down Under?

Because it is the only continent with a population entirely in the southern hemisphere.

What country would you find people celebrating Christmas on the beach?

Australia

What country is an island?

Australia

In what country would you hear a song called "Six White Boomers?"

Australia

What country would you find an animal called a Kookaburra?

Australia

What country has Misa de Gallo on December 16?

Philippines

What country would you see star lanterns, or parols, hanging everywhere?

Philippines

What country do the grandparents throw gold coins?

Philippines

What country is made up of over 7,000 islands?

Philippines