

Mice eat almost anything including grain, seeds, grasses, fruits, roots, worms, and insects.

A mouse is a small rodent found all over the world.

A mouse's front teeth never stop growing! They must chew things to keep wearing their teeth.

Mice come in different sizes. Some are only 3 inches long while others are 14 inches long.

Mice range in color. Some are brown, some are white, and some are gray.

Many animals kill mice—cats, dogs, owls, hawks, raccoons, snakes, skunks, and weasels.
