TALL  TALES

Cut book out as one piece. Fold like an accordion (back and forth). Use this book to write the different names for tall tales (Rossi gives them to the reader at the beginning of the book in the note from the author) OR use this book to record the different character-istics of tall tales.

Before you glue the back of the last page into your lapbook, consider tying yarn around the book (with the bow in the front). This will help it stay closed in your lapbook.
