

Directions:

Print out the four pages. (For a smaller project, adjust your print settings to print two pages per sheet.)

Cut out the squares. Cut on the line with the scissors icon into the exact center of the square. Fold on the diagonals. Put glue on the labeled triangle and overlap the two cut parts to make a 3-D diorama. After all four are assembled, affix with tape or glue for a four sided project.

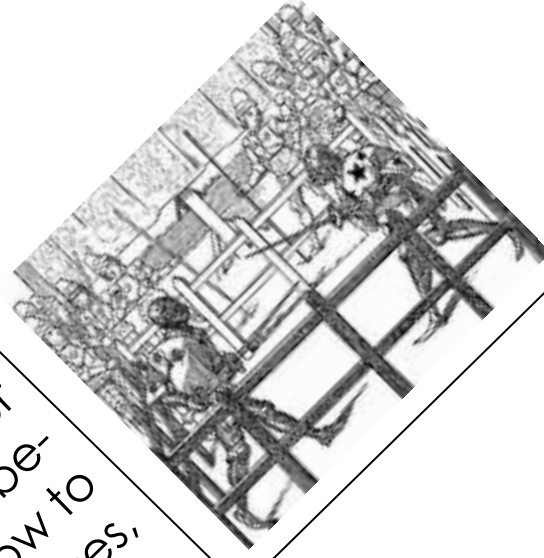

At age 7, a boy goes to a castle to serve noblewomen. He learns manners, Latin, and other school subjects.

GLUE

At 14 years old, a boy can begin to serve knights — helping them put on armor and care for weapons. They begin to learn how to joust, to ride horses, and to fight.

Squire

GLUE

At 21 years old,
a man can become a knight. He takes a bath and stays awake all night praying and preparing for the ceremony. He will be given a sword, spurs, and a belt, and then he is dubbed a true knight.

Becoming a Knight

GLUE

A knight pledges his loyalty to the king. He lives by a standard of honor and bravery. He must protect the king's castle if it is ever attacked.
