

Kingfisher

Kingfishers dive head first into the ocean to catch fish.

Lobster

A lobster has an exoskeleton, a hard, protective shell on the outside of its body.

Gull

Seagulls are scavengers. They will eat almost anything. This helps to keep coastal areas clean.

Seal

A seal's nostrils stay closed naturally. This helps him to swim underwater for a long time. When he needs to breathe air, he uses special muscles to open them.
