

Fold paper in half. Cut around nose shape. Use the inside of the book to record sensory details from the story (or include your student's original sensory smell details).