

Parallel Construction

“Where will he sleep?”

“Where will he play?”

“He will miss his friends.”

“They will be hungry.”

“The insects will multiply.”

“Where will the birds and bullfrogs live?”

“I will make him a salamander bed.”

“I will carpet my room with shiny wet leaves.”

“I will bring him friends.”

“I will bring insects.”

“I will find birds to eat them.”

“I will bring trees.”

Directions:

Fold the paper (with the pencil book) on the dotted line.

Cut sentences on this page out.

Help your student match them together after you teach the lesson in your Five in a Row manual (Volume III page 87). Glue them side by side (inside the minit book).

I chose not to include the entire conversation because it won't all fit in the minit book; however, I think this will provide ample examples for your student to grasp what you have taught.
