

Cut book out as one piece. Fold (hot dog style) on the black line. The book will not be even. The extra space will allow your student to write a title (or the name of the experiment he is observing). Cut both vertical lines, so that you have three flaps.