

Cut book out as one piece. Fold each triangle under. Lift and write an explanation of each reason. When you are finished, you should fold the book in half (on the solid black center line) and paste the back of the book into your lapbook.

Use answers provided on next page for a younger student to cut/paste under the triangles, if desired.

www.homeschoolshare.com

As people build more cities and farms and use more natural resources, giant pandas lose their homes.	Females only give birth to one or two cubs at a time. The mother (in the wild will only take care of only one of the young.
All the bamboo in one area blooms and dies at the same time leaving the panda without any food. Pandas don't have anywhere to go to find bamboo since so much of their habitat has been destroyed.	When hunters set snares for other animals the traps often kill pandas instead.

Endangered