

Directions: Cut along the outside. Between the discoverers' names, cut on the two vertical lines up to the horizontal line. Fold flaps and title so that the title will hold the flaps down. It will look like three matchbooks.

Have student write about each Pre-Columbian discoverer under the appropriate flap.

Brendan the Navigator was an Irish monk who may have discovered America about the year 550.

Leif Erikson, a Viking from Greenland and son of Erik the Red, came to America in the year 1000 and possibly explored as far south as modern Virginia.

Prince Madoc of Wales may have settled in America about the year 1170. The Mandan Indians may have descended from his colony.
