

A snail found a mirror and when she saw how brightly he shone, she fell in love with him. She quickly climbed up onto the mirror's round surface and began to lick him. The snail clearly was no good for the mirror and only besmirched his lustrous radiance with filth and slime. A monkey then found the mirror after it had been dirtied by the snail, and remarked, 'That's what happens when you let someone like that walk all over you!'

Glue to lapbook here.

The Snail and the Mirror

by Aesop

Cut out book on solid lines. Mountain fold on dotted lines. Under story, on blank page, you can either glue lined paper for child to narrate story, or just have child draw a picture.

Blank area for drawing or writing, containing ten horizontal lines.

Blank area for drawing or writing, containing ten sets of primary-ruled lines (solid top and bottom lines with a dashed midline).