1735

The image shows a vertical timeline grid. On the left side, there are four horizontal lines, each with a year label: 1720, 1725, 1730, and 1735. To the right of these lines is a large vertical rectangle divided into four horizontal sections by three horizontal lines. These sections are currently empty, intended for users to write historical events corresponding to the years on the left.

The image shows a vertical timeline grid. On the left side, there are four horizontal lines extending from the years 1780, 1785, 1790, and 1795. These lines connect to a vertical line that forms the left edge of a large rectangular area. This area is divided into four horizontal sections by three horizontal lines, creating four empty rectangular boxes for notes or events. The top section is aligned with 1780, the second with 1785, the third with 1790, and the bottom with 1795.
